

Board of Directors Selects Lisa Richmond as New Executive

The Board of Directors of AIA Seattle has announced their selection of Lisa Richmond as the new executive for our chapter. Lisa brings strong strategic management and leadership skills to AIA Seattle. She is an effective communicator with significant experience in financial management, partnership and program development.

Lisa recently completed a Loeb Fellowship at the Harvard University Graduate School of Design. Prior to that she served as Public Art Specialist for the Seattle Office of Arts and Cultural Affairs, where she administered the public art program for Seattle Public Library's Central Library and 28 branch libraries. She has also worked as a project management consultant in Atlanta and Melbourne. Lisa has a Master of Arts Administration degree from the University of Wisconsin and a Bachelor of Art degree from the University of Virginia.

The Board is excited about the energy and expertise that Lisa brings to our component. She will be at the Honor Awards Ceremony at McCaw Hall on Monday night to be introduced and meet the design community.
